Introduction

TULAS
DEHRADUN
Estd. 2006

The Plant Science Researchers Meet (PSRM) is one of India's leading scientific platforms that brings together researchers, academicians, innovators, entrepreneurs, and industry professionals working in agriculture, applied sciences, biotechnology, life sciences, and allied sectors. Organized annually since 2018 by PLANTICA – Association of Plant Science Researchers (APSR), the conference has grown into a prestigious national event known for promoting interdisciplinary research, innovation, and sustainable development.

The 8th PSRM 2025–26 marks the next step toward strengthening India's scientific ecosystem and fostering actionable knowledge for a resilient agricultural future. With the theme "Innovation, Integration, and Sustainability in Agricultural, Applied and Life Sciences for Future India", the conference aims to generate meaningful dialogue and collaborative opportunities to address contemporary challenges.
